WRITING (30 minutes)

When we buy something we have not used before – whether it is a new gadget, clothes or even food – we often check out online product reviews. The purpose of a product review is to provide potential buyers with a detailed and objective assessment of a product to help them make an informed decision before making a purchase.

Write your own product review (150–190 words) of something you have recently bought for a review website.

Follow this plan.

- Name the product and briefly describe it.
- Write about its good features (2 or more) relying on your experience.
- Mention some drawbacks of the product (1 or more).
- Express your overall impression and give recommendations – who might the product be useful or interesting for?

Do not forget to include an opening and closing comment.
