3. Say what this proverb expresses.
4. Give an example of how this proverb may be used.
5. Make a conclusion.

Writing (answer sheet): Write 100 – 120 words.

"Actions speak louder than words". It's a great proverb. We usually say this proverb when we want to teach someone something new. Proverbs ^{are} a big part of our language. My teachers always say that proverbs are knowledge of our relatives and we should be proud of them, our history and our language.

What does this proverb means? It means that we can say a lot of different words, we can promise people to do something, but we never do this. If we do something at first, people will trust us. For example, you said your sister two days ago that you will help her with her Maths homework, but you didn't help her. She was sad, because your words ^{weren't} a truth.

If you promise someone to do something, you will do it, because this human trust you
